Qualitative Feedback

VERDICT: PASS

Chander demonstrated a strong grasp of React development concepts, including state management, error handling, and performance optimization. He provided clear and concise answers, showcasing his experience with React and its applications. However, there were moments where his responses seemed a bit rushed or lacked specific details. For instance, when asked about his experience with React, he initially struggled to provide a clear answer but later provided a detailed overview of his project. To improve, Chander should focus on providing more specific examples and elaborating on his thought process. Despite this, his technical knowledge and problem-solving approach were impressive, and he aligned well with the role requirements. Hiring recommendation: Yes.
